The Italian ship Galileo reports, had fine weather first part of passage until 10th Nov., when it lat. 10, M.; long. 180, experienced a heavy typhosp which lasted 2 days. Lost main tupmast, and mizenment; all sails blown from the gaskets and incurred other clamages. Since the 18th November experienced fine weather. On the 9th November, spoke the British barque Radama, from Pugit Sound bound to Hongkong. She seemed unfit to stand the typhoon which came on the next day, as she had have part of her cargo overboard having been in bad weather before. On the 20th in lat, 21,24 w., long, 123,32 B., spoke the British ship Tewisbury from Manila bound to Hongkong. She had lost her rudder, and was looking badly. She gave notice that she would continue on the same course steering with the sails, and requested that a steamer night be sent to hir assistance. The British steamer Unding-reports having towed the British ship John Temperly to sea from Foodbuw. Saw H.M.S. Cormeront going into Clearances.

PART FIRST: OF A NEW ANGLO CHINESE DICTIONARY, QUARTO RRV. W. DOBSCHEID COURT AND PUNTS DIALECTS,

PUBLISHER'S NOTICE. THIS WORK was commenced in November 1864, the computation of the author then being that it could be comprised in one thousand four hundred pages, and would occupy the years. Many unloaked for obstructions, chiefly of a tapographical nature, materially retarded the progress of the work in the first instance, and these being dvercome, the author discovered that he had underestimated the extent and the importance of the rast task he had undertaken, and that would occupy fully double the time and space which he had at the outset computed. The publication of a work of such magnitude and presenting so many and such varied obstrates, seldom falls to the limited ros urces of one single tidividual, as coours in this case. The first part of the work is now issued, partly at the request of the author and partly to affect the Foreign Community of China an opportunity of extending that assistance to the publisher, which under the directmetances is usually so freely accorded. The price of the book complete, will be $30 and it will be published in four parts at $7.5 each. But this objection presents itself to the sale of the parts separately, should the purchaser of one or more parts not take the others, a number of incomplete, and consequently valueless, copies will be left on the publisher's hands. 'To remedy this phjection, in consideration of the circumscanner already alleded to it is hoped that those who see fit to putronise the undertaking by pur-Charing the first part, will not object to signing an engagement to take thoremaining ports as they appear, or should they prefer it, to pay for the entire work in advance.
